

Friday 30th August 2024

Welcome to all of our new pupils and families and welcome back to everyone returning to school this week. Next week we will have a new look newsletter for you so please look out for this.

It has been an exciting first week with pupils returning to some exciting changes to the school. If you haven't already seen the changes that we have shared on social media we have attached some to the newsletter for you.

The new satellite base at Ravenhurst Primary School has opened for some of the pupils this week and the EYFS pupils will join them next week. Staff have worked hard to prepare the classrooms for the pupils and there will be more work taking place over the next few months to develop the soft play, sensory room, outdoor play area and car park.

At Primary the swings have multiplied and we now have two new basket swings in the Key Stage 2 playground. There have been works to the outside of the playground to improve the drainage (very exciting) and we have also created two new classrooms – Star and Panda. To make sure everyone can access soft play there will be an additional soft play fitted at the end of September which includes a climbing wall.

Vocational 6th Form has had its outdoor area transformed to increase accessibility between the main school and the bungalow with paved areas and grassed areas that include raised beds for planting. The access to the front of the 6th form has also been transformed with an accessible footpath from the main street to the school gate. Visuals have also been added to make the corridor spaces more vibrant.

All of this work happens over the holidays when the site, cleaning and Trust work hard to prepare the school for the pupil's return. There have been some amazing transformations this holiday because of their hard work and commitment and I know that you will want to join me in thanking everyone. Enjoy the weekend.
